"Having worked with Tanasha Holder, I can speak with confidence about the professionalism and integrity she brings to her work. Tanasha is meticulous, dependable and highly attentive to detail. She understands that when you are entrusted with a company's financial records and sensitive information, accuracy, confidentiality and accountability are non-negotiable. As a CEO and business owner, these are precisely the qualities I look for in someone entrusted with critical financial and administrative responsibilities. I would have no hesitation recommending Tanasha to a business seeking reliable bookkeeping and financial administration support."
